

CMPRO Announcement

Transition to New Iconography in PSA Documentation Ongoing

Overview

Professional Systems Associates, Inc. (PSA) recently released a Change Notice (CHG2017005) describing renovations taking place to the CMPRO User Interface (UI). We are aware that all publicly distributed documentation materials (such as the User's Guide, CMPROiciency Learning Materials, and other published documents in which PSA branding might be included) may be visually "out-of-sync" with the iconography the user will soon see during their CMPRO session. The effort to change out examples of current CMPRO screens with those that will reflect UI changes included with C-BN-0116) will take some time. PSA thanks you in advance for your patience.

NOTE: While the look-and-feel of the UI may be different, all functional aspects of CMPRO remain unchanged.
